

Cauli O, Pinna A and Morelli M. (2005) Subchronic intermittent caffeine administration to unilaterally 6-hydroxydopamine lesioned rats sensitises turning behaviour in response to dopamine D1 but not D2 receptor agonists. Behav. Pharm. 16: 621-626 IF: 2.4

Pinna A., Pontis S., Morelli M Expression of dyskinetic movements and turning behaviour in subchronic L-DOPA 6-hydroxydopamine-treated rats is influenced by the testing environment. Behav Brain Res. 2006, 171(1):175-178.  IF: 2.6

Carta AR, Pinna A, Morelli M. How reliable is the behavioural evaluation of dyskinesia in animal models of Parkinson’s disease? Behav Pharmacol. 2006, 17(5-6):393-402.  IF: 2.4

Simola N, Fenu S, Baraldi PG, Tabrizi MA, Morelli M. (2008) Blockade of globus pallidus adenosine A(2A) receptors displays antiparkinsonian activity in 6-hydroxydopamine-lesioned rats treated with D(1) or D(2) dopamine receptor agonists. Synapse, 62(5):345-50  IF: 3.4

Simola N, Morelli M, Seeman P. (2008) Increase of dopamine D2(High) receptors in the striatum of rats sensitized to caffeine motor effects. Synapse. 62(5):394-7  IF: 3.4

BOOKS

